Dear Cow-Calf Producer,

The North Central Indiana Cow-Calf IRM Workshop is slated for Friday, February 26, 2016, at the Stony Pike Livestock Auction Facility in Logansport, Indiana. Join us for this educational workshop geared to help beef producers improve their operations.

What will 2016 bring for the cattle markets? Purdue Extension will provide a market update which will discuss the market trends and expectations to kick-off the 2016 Cow-Calf IRM Workshop.

Andrea Brown, Purdue Extension Educator in Carroll County, will address the topic, "What Makes the Best Bull for You?" This presentation will look at selection criteria for bulls and discuss why bulls should have breeding soundness exams.

Dr. Bethany Funnell, Purdue College of Veterinary Medicine, will help ensure that you are prepared to handle challenges during calving. Her presentation, "Plan for Positive Outcomes: Calving Management and Addressing Dystocia" will provide useful tips for a successful calving season.

Register today by calling the Carroll County Cooperative Extension Office at (574) 967-3538!

SINCERELY,
